

AEI and HKEAA Joint Seminar Series in Australia on the New HKDSE Qualification in Hong Kong

Australian Education International Hong Kong, in partnership with the Hong Kong Examinations and Assessment Authority (HKEAA), will deliver a series of seminars in Australia in early June to outline and discuss the changes to the Hong Kong education system (taking effect from September 2009).

The seminars provide an excellent opportunity for institutions, peak bodies and all those who contribute to Australia’s international education and training sector to hear about the changes that the Hong Kong Government is making to its undergraduate and high school qualifications. The sessions will also provide a forum to discuss issues affecting the international education sector in Hong Kong.

Program highlights:

- Presentation by AEI about the recent student enrolment trends in the Hong Kong market and the pending changes to the Hong Kong education system;
- Presentation by the HKEAA on the details of the new Hong Kong Diploma Secondary Education and the recent benchmarking exercise; and
- Excellent networking opportunities.

Speakers:

- Hong Kong Examinations and Assessment Authority: Dr Francis Cheung, Secretary-General (in Sydney, Canberra and Perth) and Dr Thomas Cheung, Director of Development and Educational Assessment (in Brisbane, Adelaide and Melbourne); and
